There are lots of other planets. They're too far away to visit, so people sent a spaceship to take photos...
It went around the planet Jupiter
and it's still going!

Air tank.
In space everything floats. People float, the space station floats, even the Moon and the Earth float.
It takes a while to get used to!